Companion Hunting Dog Training

We provide bird dog training customized to fit you and your dog's needs. We will evaluate your dog and discuss your goals then create a training program designed to help you produce the hunting companion you desire. We encourage owners to take an active role and have found that instructing the owners is as important as training the dogs so we offer a program that supports the trainer and the dog in a positive environment without harsh training methods. Please contact us for more details. We also work with gun shy issues
